DRAMATICS

SENIOR PLAY

On Friday, December 13, to a rain-washed twelve hundred, the largest audience on record for a senior play, the 1941 class presented their annual play, Charles Quimby Burdette's "Once in a Lifetime." This saga of Konrad, a gypsy boy, adopted by white parents, was well received.

The romantic Romany element is introduced when a band of gypsies makes its entrance. The Daya and the Daro, played by Dorothy Gibson and Sim Christy, head the group. Among the more prominent members are their three attractive daughters, Zara, Carmena, and Katinka, played by Ruth Ruiz, Sal Hall, and June Green, and the jealous lover, Stan, played by Hudson Russell.

The conflict of two elements in the mind of Konrad, Jon Miller, causes tension and suspense. The first is his home life with his foster parents, Jeff and Emily Ross, played by Bill Teller and Louise Hillyer, and the companionship of the beautiful niece of the Rosses, Laurie York, portrayed by Martha Gill. The other element is her inherited craving of adventure, and an infatuation for the vivacious and flirtatious gypsy, Zara. Mr. Dinsmore, Paul Wilson, by proposing to Laurie helps Stan, who loves Zara, create conflicting love interests.

Hilarious comedy was furnished by Mary Jordan and Ernest Wilbanks, in portraying Stella, the maid, and Rodney, the half-wit.

A large portion of credit for the success of the evening goes to Charlene Andrews, costume and set designer, and Sidney Hayes, stage manager. May Hemphill was publicity agent, and Louise Parrot, Anita Hanson, Anna Alexander, Juanita McElhaney, and Edwardine Russell constituted the make-up crew.

ONE-ACT PLAYS

Miss Mary E. Compton, Director

"Spreading the News," the official entry of S. A. H. S. in the District Meet, made quite a showing. It began its long and illustrious series of performances on the night of March 13 in the college auditorium, where it was presented with two other plays, "Two Potatoes for Mary," a student production, and "Night Falls on Spain." The audience, given the opportunity of voicing their preference for the play to represent San Angelo in the district meet, chose "Spreading the News."

San Angelo placed first at the district meet, and Marylou Godbehere tied with Buelah Johnson of Lakeview for first in individual acting for girls. At the Regional Meet in Abilene, San Angelo again swept the slate by receiving first by a unanimous decision of three judges. Marylou Godbehere won first for girls in individual acting, with Sim Christy placing second for boys.

And on to Austin! The San Angelo delegation, the largest cast at the University Interscholastic Meet, arrived in good spirits which they were able to maintain even after the judge's decision was given, and "Spreading the News" was not among the top three. One of eight of more than six hundred plays is not so bad. Marylou, whose winning performances had practically become a tradition, was presented a gold medal for being selected a member of the all-star cast. Mary Jordan and Jon Miller received honorable mention.

Others in the cast were Barbara Wallace, Jim Morgan, Enslie Oglesby, Norman Sturgis, Joe McKnight, Wood Butler, Ernest Wilbanks, and Bill Barton, stage manager. Wood was with the cast through the time of the Regional Meet, and Joe took his role in Austin.

FOOTLIGHTERS

Miss Mary Compton, Sponsor

FOUNDED: 1934

COLORS: Bright Blue and Silver

MOTTO: Ars Gratia Artis

Among the activities of the Footlighters were the three one-act plays which they sponsored on the night of March 13 in the college auditorium. "Three Potatoes for Mary," "Night Falls on Spain," and "Spreading the News," which was selected as Angelo's entry in the district meet, were presented.

The Footlighters acted as host to the visiting play teams at the district meet.

This club has the distinction of being the only club in high school to have given dances. A pre-Thanksgiving and a pre-Easter dance were given in the girls' gym. A theatre party in the fall was also sponsored by this organization.

Among the personal activities of the Footlighters were the fall initiation at the St. Angelus Hotel and the spring initiation-picnic.

RADIO ASSEMBLY PROGRAMS

This year something entirely new, the Public Address System, was introduced in S. A. H. S.

This system, including two radios, six microphone stations, and a loud speaker for each class room, has met with success. Not only has it been a time-saver in sending messages from the office to various parts of the main building, the gym, and the band house; but has also served as a substitute for Assembly Programs, which were discontinued when the auditorium was converted into a library.

Each Thursday since the installation students have presented programs during the Home Room Period. These programs have proved an interesting and enjoyable form of entertainment.

January 30—(1) Mercer reports news flashes, (2) Dickson describes system, (3) The first radio group poses. February 6—(4) Program on Famous February Birthdays. February 13—(5), (6) St. Valentine's Program, (7) Norman Sturgis, Announcer. February 21—(8), (9) Future Farmers' Program. February 28—(10) Quiz Program. March 6—(11) Student Forum Program, (12) R. Johnson presents own opinion. March 13—(13) Amateur Program. March 27—(14), (15) Band Program. April 3—(16), 17) Spanish Program. April 10—(18) Glee Club Program, (19) Willig, Announcer.

THE STUDENT FORUM

James H. Grisham, Sponsor

The Student Forum is an organization established to give juniors and seniors interested in public affairs an opportunity to carry their discussion beyond the classroom. This club has been organized for three years during which it has held the distinction of being one of the two clubs of its type in Texas.

During the year the club presented the entire school, over the public address system, a model meeting of the forum in action. This was to show the students how the club discussed informally international situations and how they presented various problems to the student body.

Earning to live, living to serve."

The Future Farmers of America has as its purpose to practice brotherhood, to honor rural opportunities and responsibilities, to develop those qualities of leadership which a Future Farmer should possess. Any boy who has taken vocational agriculture may work toward these ends and must do so before he is considered a true Future Farmer.

Chapter members had entries in the Tom Green County Fat Stock Show and the San Angelo Fat Stock Show and won high honors in both. The annual banquet given by the Rotary Club early in the fall was attended by the Future Farmers.

Miss Tennie Thompson, Director

The San Angelo High School Mixed Chorus, composed of two girls' glee clubs and one boys' glee club, has a membership of ninety. The highlights of the 1940-41 school year were participation in the annual Christmas concert of the Philharmonic Society and the annual spring concert of the High School Music Department.

The girls' trio, organized in September, 1940, has sung on numerous occasions during the school year, one of these being the Mid-Texas Teachers' Convention at Brownwood.

The girls octet, also organized in the fall of 1940, has taken part in various high school social events, radio assembly programs, K G K L broadcasts, and in programs of civic and church organizations.

SAN ANGELO HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

Mr. Homer A. Anderson, Conductor

The concert orchestra, while not seen as much as the band, plays an important part in the instrumental program. This year's orchestra of forty-nine members appeared on a number of programs. Among these were the Senior Play, the Christmas radio broadcast, public service programs, and the Sixth Annual Concert sponsored by the Instrumental Music Department of S. A. H. S., and the commencement exercises.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND

SAN ANGELO HIGH SCHOOL BAND

Mr. Homer A. Anderson, Director

The San Angelo High School Band placed Division I, in Class A marching in the National Band Meet in Waco on May 9, and 10. The Bobcat Band won a third division in the concert playing.

San Angelo soloists won high ratings at the State Meet in Abilene and in the stiffer competition at Waco.

Throughout the year, the band has given its loyal support to the Bobcat football and basketball games and to various civic and recreational events.

At the annual band and orchestra concert, on March 28, the boys wove a genii spell around an audience of one thousand with their renditions of "In a Persian Market" and "Stormy Weather."

LINE-UP SALESMEN

During the 1940 Football season, the proverbial unlucky thirteen proved to be very lucky for the line-up salesmen. Twelve girls and Harris Smith, sales manager, sold more line-ups than in any preceding year. All of the salesmen worked to master new techniques of making sales, but Annette Smith with her sweet "come-hither smile" managed to outsell the others. Patsy Allison and Beryle Jeanne Elliott ranked second and third, respectively.

GIRLS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION

In September there were approximately 400 girls in gym classes, which met twice a week. In the fall the girls played tennis, aerial darts, deck tennis, baseball, and soccer. The fall intramural tennis tournament was won by Marie Snodgrass, first year matches, Maxine Culwell, second year matches, and Helen Marie Wohlford, third year. Winter weather drove the girls into the gym where they engaged in tumbling and volleyball. Spring, besides reviving the fall sports, brought with it goal-hi, horse shoes, and rope-jumping.

GIRLS' HEALTH

In the girls' health classes, held each Wednesday, the prevention and cure of diseases and the structure of the body were studied and the girls wrote themes based on the discussions. Each girl wrote a theme on the subject "Increasing the Span of Life" and entered this in the contest sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the State Medical Association of Texas. Blanche McKee's theme was judged the best and she was awarded the five dollar prize. In the posture contest, Joy Wilson Flint was chosen as the girl having the best posture.

1. TUMBLING TEAM

2. SOPHOMORE TENNIS PLAYERS

3. JUNIOR AND SENIOR TENNIS PLAYERS

GIRLS' TENNIS

HELEN MARIE WOHLFORD

This year Helen Marie "Wohlfy" lettered for the second year. Last year she was an outstanding singles player, who lost to the district winner; this year she proved to be an outstanding doubles player, losing to the winner of the regional tournament. She will be remembered as a determined player, who is always "poker-faced" in a game and whose tennis is polished in every respect. After defeating Garner in their first match in the region, the doubles team lost to Peters Prairie.

WILMA FAYE MCGLOTHLIN

1941 was the second year that Wilma Faye lettered in doubles. She is known far and wide for her hard drives. The pass word of her opponents has become "Don't play the blonde's back hand." Quite different from her partner, Helen, she is always smiling while playing. Wohlford and McGlothlin did not play for individual glory, and their superior team work was responsible for their victories.

TUTTA STUMBERG

Tutta is an experienced player from last year, when she was a substitute. Representing San Angelo in the District Meet as the girls' singles player, she lost to the girl who later won first in the Regional Meet. Stumberg is one who will not give up until the last point has been played. She can match strokes with the best players and because of her good sportsmanship is a favorite among her opponents.

JEAN GUTHRIE

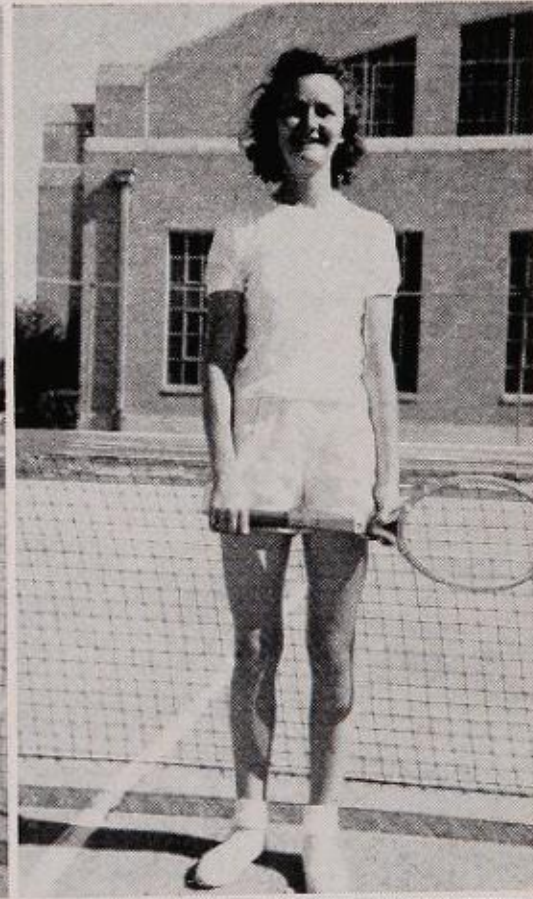

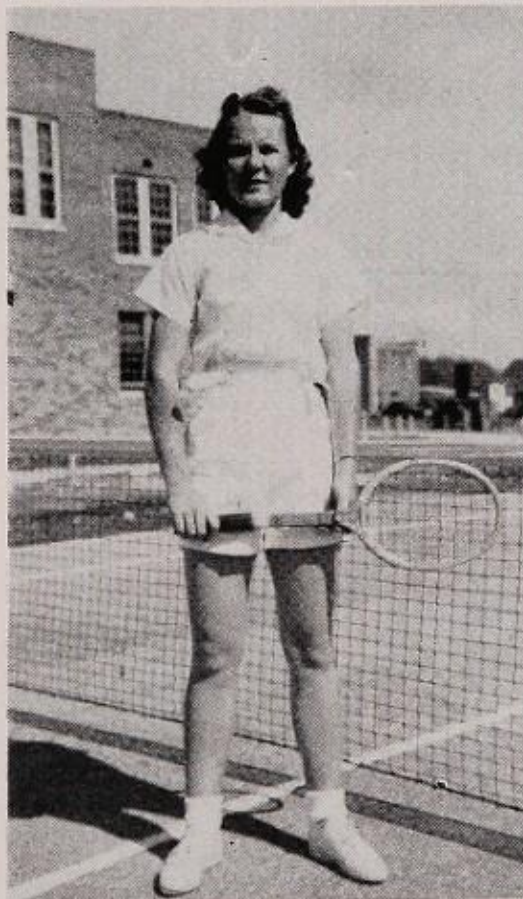

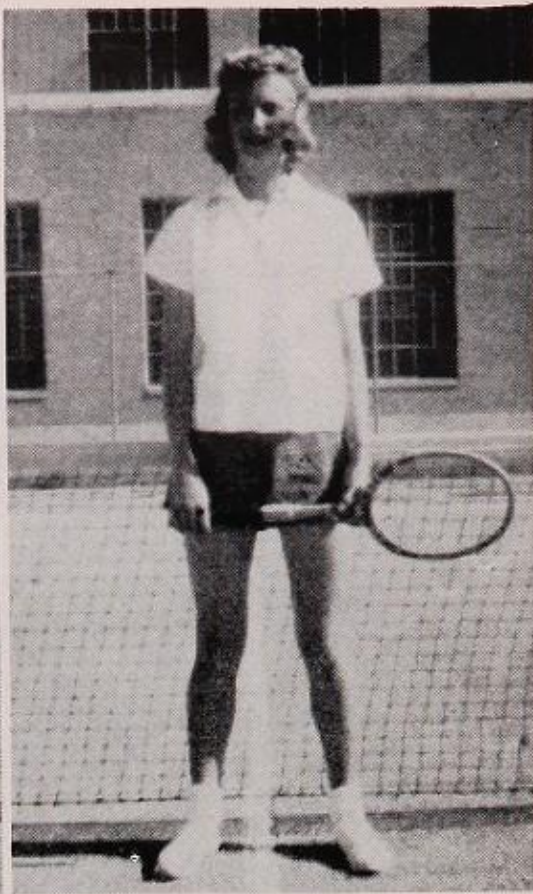

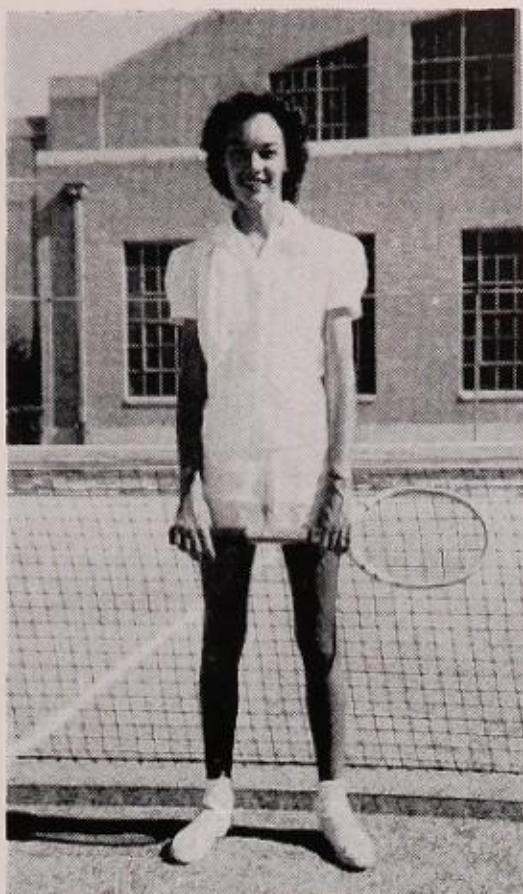

Guthrie, who had played tennis only eighteen months before this year, made the most improvement of any girl on the squad. Jean, with her good brand of tennis, was a "pinch-hitter" in singles and doubles. Although she knew that the odds were against her for making the district team, she continued her outstanding faithfulness.

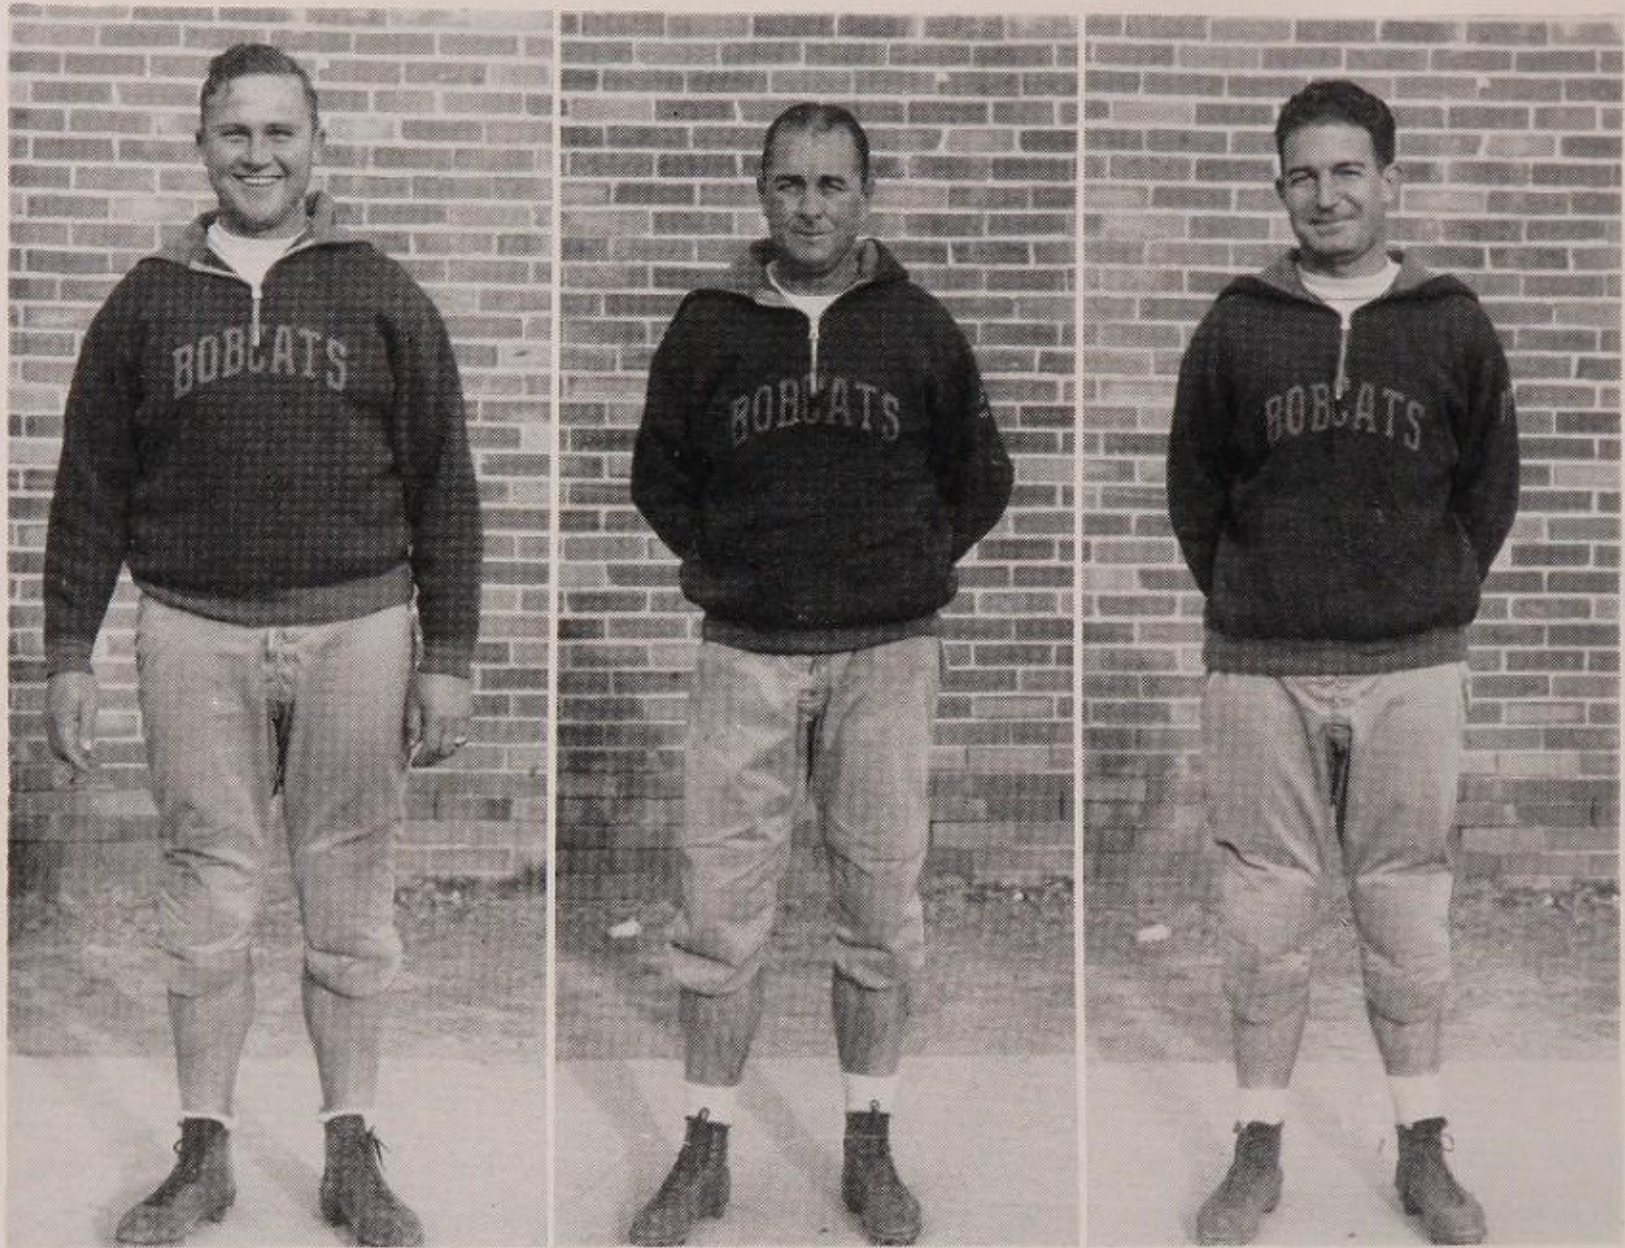

HELEN WHITFIELD

In the invitation tournament Helen lost in the semi-finals in singles. One of the outstanding tennis players in high school, she stayed with the team and helped the three district players to be better by playing with them every afternoon.

FRANCES SIMS

Understanding, faithfulness, and skill in tennis made Miss Sims a perfect tennis coach. In victories her girls have had their share, and in the realm of sportsmanship they surpass. Whether in practice or matches she gives them the motto "Sportsmanship, then Victory!" Working with them, playing with them, rejoicing with them, and pulling for them, "Sims" is admired not only by the girls she coaches but by the entire school.

TO THE COACHES

The Senior Class of San Angelo High School wishes to offer its gratitude to Coaches Harry Taylor, Hervey Blue, and Charles Harless for the time and the labor that they have spent in furthering the athletic program in Senior High.

Known throughout the state as an astute football mentor and as a builder of fine young manhood, Harry Taylor made a definite imprint on the minds of all the students who knew him. With a football team which fought on its heart alone and with a basketball squad that went to the finals in the Regional, Coach Taylor ended a ten year period of splendid service in San Angelo High.

Coach Hervey Blue exhibited his ability this spring by turning out a track team that captured the District Tournament crown and won second in the Regional. While he was producing a champion track squad, Coach Blue also ably managed the boys' athletic activities following Mr. Taylor's resignation. Mellow as an old pipe, Coach Blue is impossible to dislike.

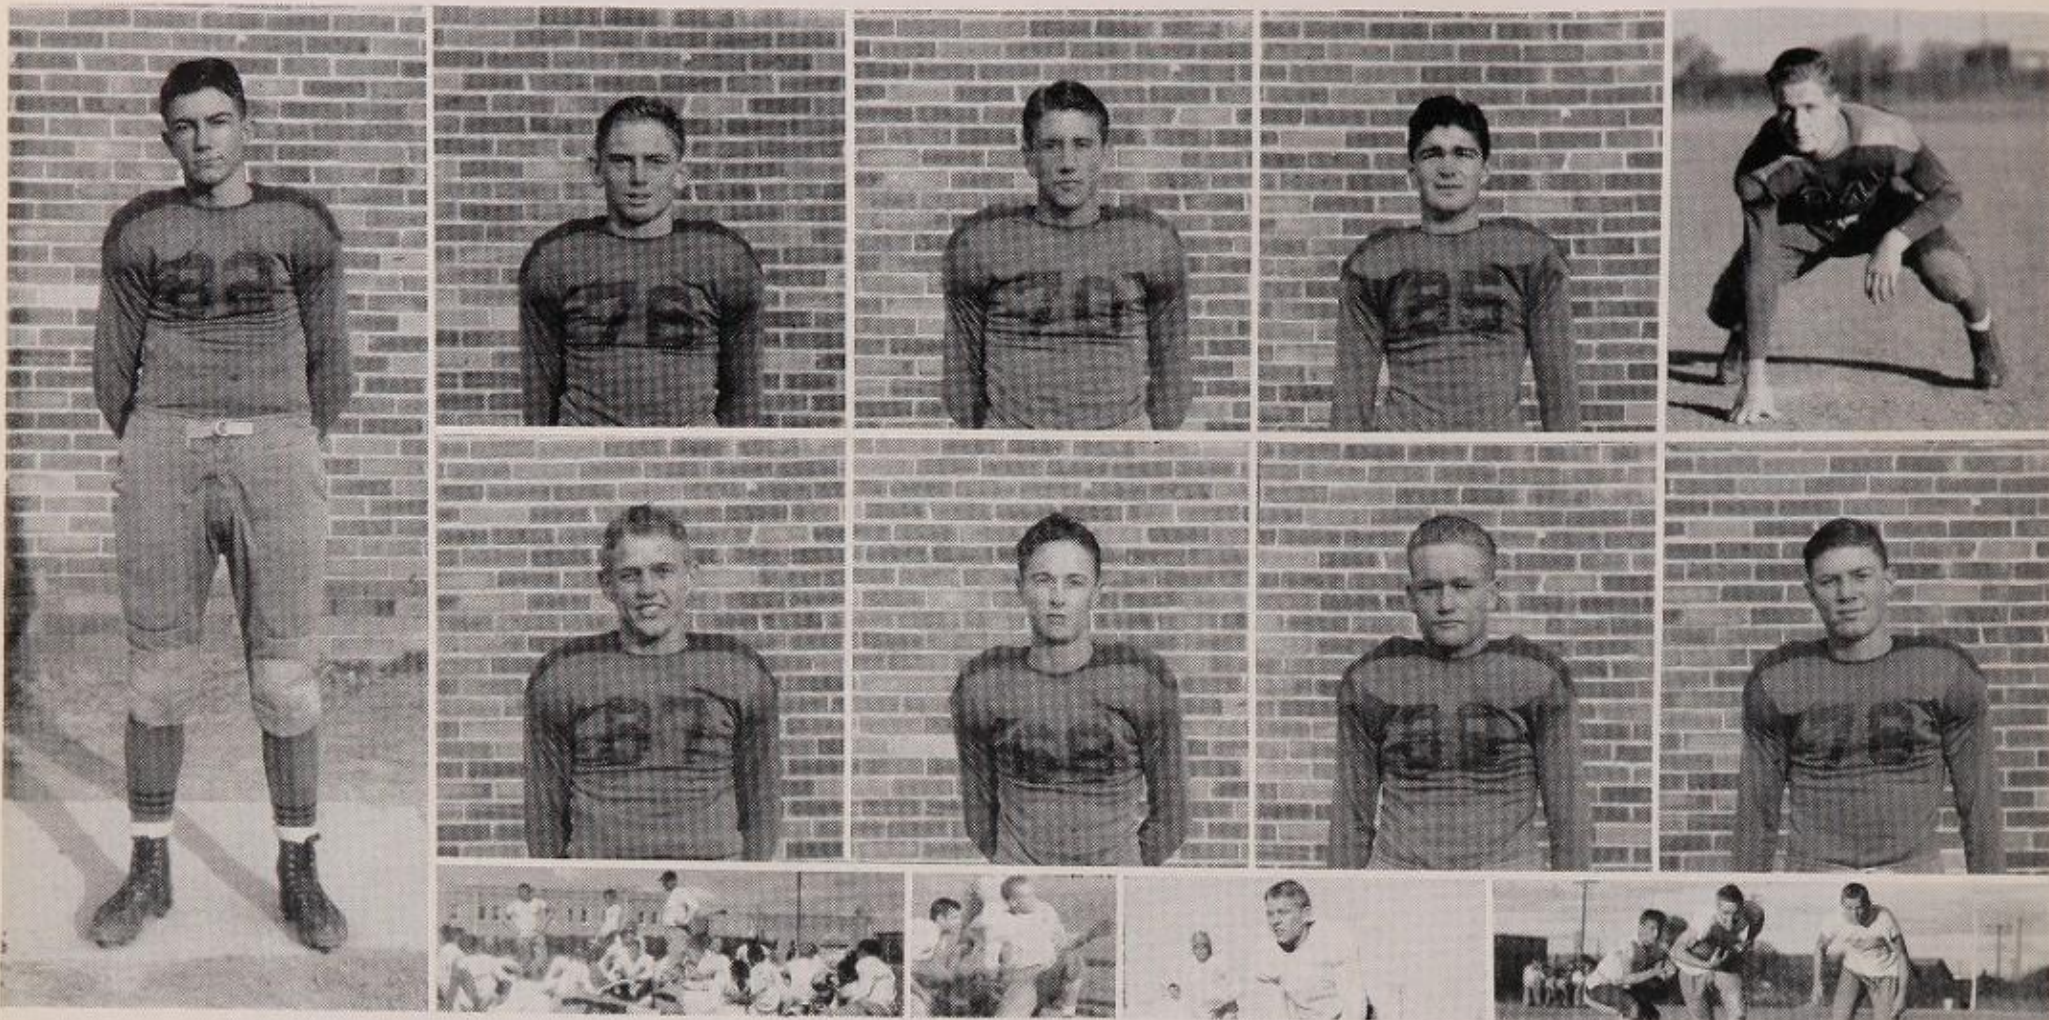

Amiable Charles Harless directed the Kitten football eleven in their search for gridiron experience last fall. Coach Harless' teaching duties were extended at the close of the football season, and the Coach was unable to finish the year with the boys.

PRESENTATION OF AWARDS TO THE COACHES

BOBCAT TRAVELING SQUAD OF 1940

FOOTBALL LETTERMEN

NO. 82 — LEE SANDLIN

Our "Mighty Mite" of last season, "Rough-house" Lee Sandlin, lived up to last year's title, "toughest sixty-minute man on the team," again this year. A leader of both field and school activities, Lee was selected captain of the Bobcats with few dissenting votes.

NO. 76 — FLOYD DODSON

Floyd Dodson, blocking-back deluxe, played hard and worked hard for the team and never let it down. "Hawk" will be back next year with the weight and experience essential for a good wingman.

NO. 70 — BOBBY LONON

The fiery little sparkplug of the team, Bobby Lonon, won his spurs—and his letter—with his accurate passing and deceptive running. A cunning quarterback, Bobby was especially adapted to faking punts and running the Bobcats out of dangerous positions.

NO. 85 — CHARLES POTTS

Charles Potts, ace pass snatcher, was a confident and aggressive end who never slowed up when he was once in the game. Charles could really make his blocks stick.

NO. 97 — LOUIS HILL

When the Cats were in dire need of a first down, Louis "Blueberry" Hill crashed the forward wall for the necessary yardage. A combination full-back and tackle, Louis effectively stopped up the gaps in our line.

NO. 87 — DALE CHASE

Blue eyes and blond hair lured this triple-threat quarterback to that southeast corner near the band more times than one. Swivel-hipped "Swede" scored most of the points for the Cats this year and will be eligible for the squad next year.

NO. 68 — R. T. COPE

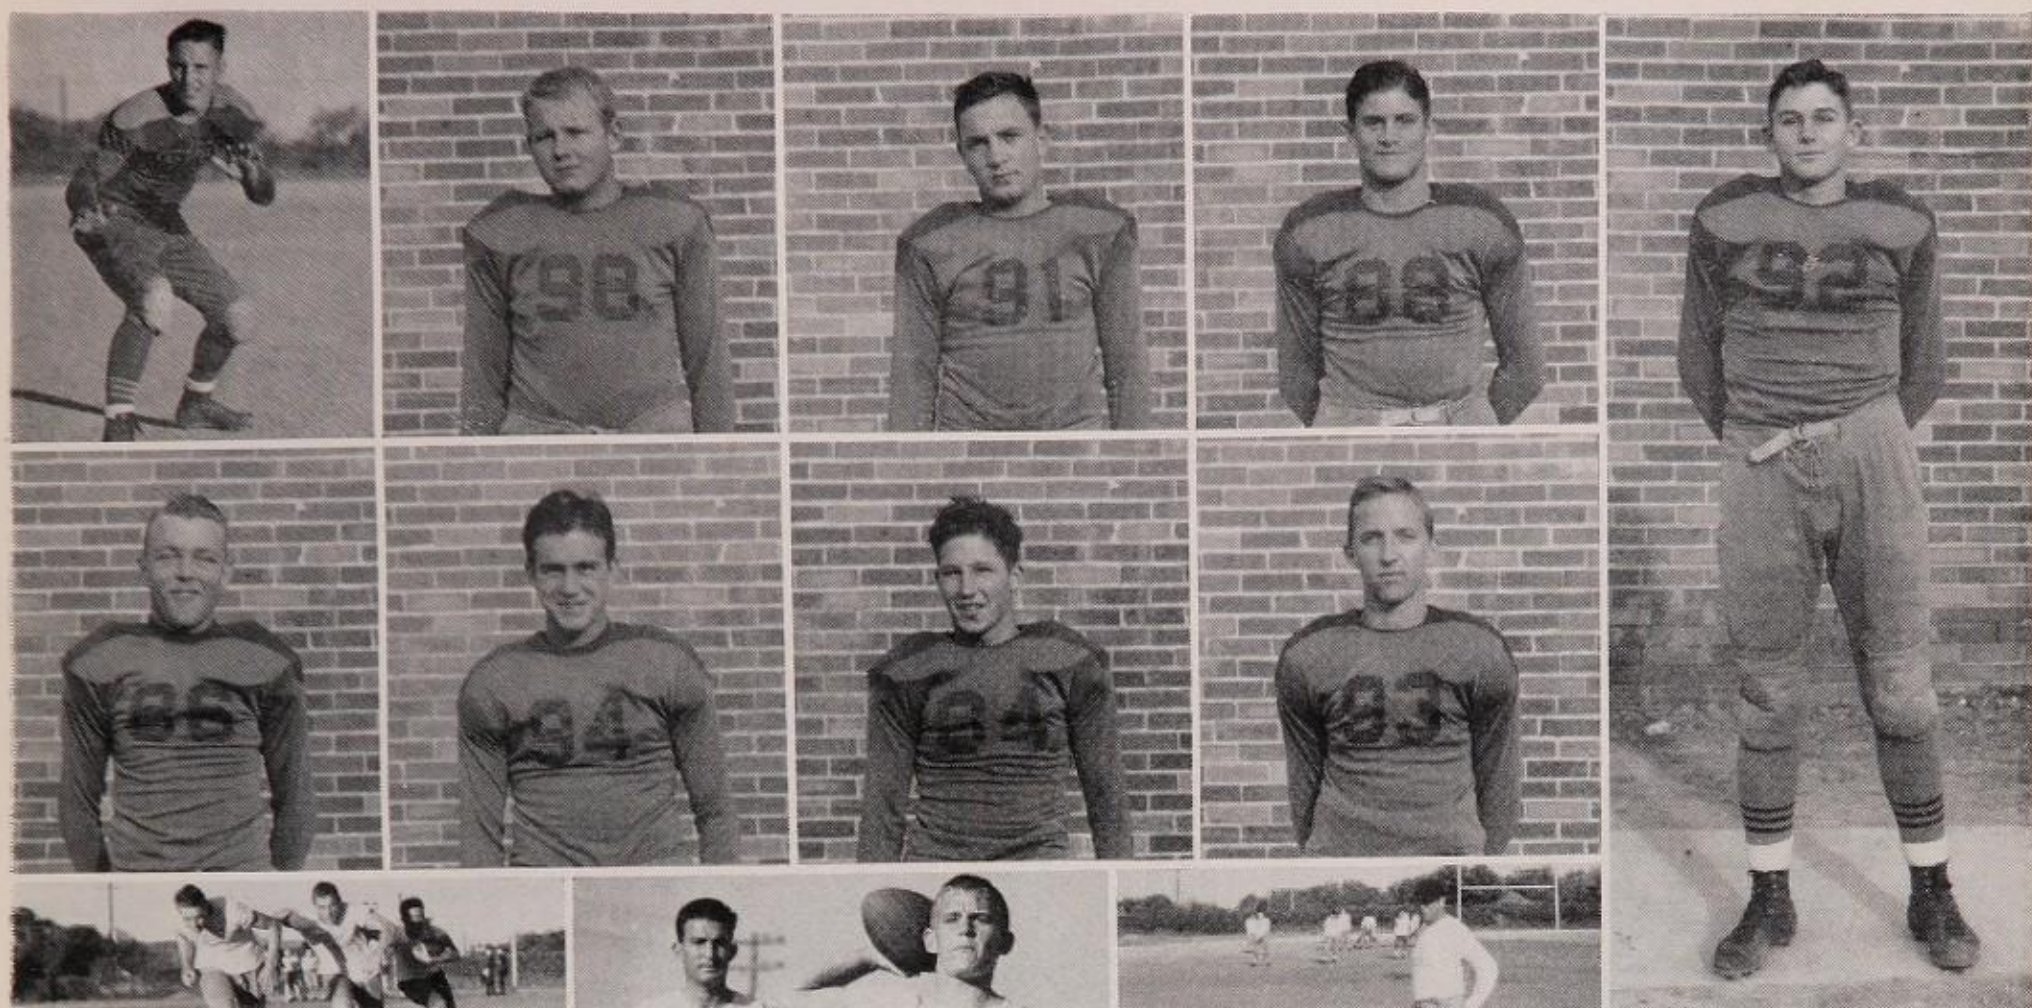

After two years on the squad without any recognition, Cope gained the limelight this year with his splendid punting. This 140 pound package of nitroglycerine set rival teams back on their heels time and again with rolling kicks that were well over the safety man's head.

NO. 89 — CECIL TURNER

Following in the footsteps of his famous cousins, Cecil played the rough and rugged type of football typical of the Teague clan. Playing his first year as a regular, Turner was one of the hardest on the team to block.

NO. 78 — J. R. BARKER

J. R. Barker, one of the best defensive men on the squad, was always ready to carry his share of the load. Barker is one of the five lettermen who will be back next year.

FOOTBALL LETTERMEN

NO. 92 — MORTIMER MERTZ

Morty is one of the two West Texans selected to play on the North Team in the North-South game in the fall of 1941. This boisterous guard filters through a hostile line like quicksilver. Morty was as good a scholar as he was a guard on the team.

NO. 73 — WAYNE CASON

Little but loud, Wayne Cason was a defensive demon for the Bobcats at his end position. He has now given his undaunted courage to the service of his country. The navy has a good man in Wayne.

NO. 98 — SAM BARRETT

"Singing Sam" Barrett, a big bruising tackle of 200 and-some odd pounds, will always be remembered as the husky who blocked the Sweetwater punt and ended a four year period in which we had made no scores against the Mustangs. Sam delighted in smearing luckless enemy players into the ground.

NO. 91 — J. D. ALLEN

Never complaining J. D. Allen filled his guard position to the best of his ability and will return next year to carry on for the "Orange and Blue."

NO. 88 — BUDDY GIBBS

After an injury had kept him on the sidelines for five weeks, Buddy recovered in time to assist the Bobcats in their last two struggles. Sturdy and staunch, Buddy never said quits.

NO. 86 — FRANK KREIDEL

Frank Kreidel, out for a position virtually cinched by a potential all-district man, succeeded in gaining his letter through hard, muscle-tearing work. Frank merited more praise than he received.

NO. 94 — BOB FORD

Bob Ford, virtually an unknown at the beginning of the season, won his letter through his consistent hard playing and good spirit. Bone-smashing tackles and terrific power drives were Bob's specialties.

NO. 84 — MARTIN DEHNEL

Martin Dehnel, quiet and unassuming, always hurled his 145 pounds from his guard position with deadly accuracy. Enemy ball carriers often wondered how such a little man could hit as hard as Dehnel. Martin is a white-hope for next year.

NO. 93 — BILL CUNNINGHAM

Bill Cunningham, smiling and playful on the campus, was cool and deadly on the playing field. "Streak," one of the team favorites, was on the receiving end of the spectacular pass which tied Abilene.

BOBCAT CAGE SEASON

A hardy Bobcat basketball squad ended a splendid season in the Region 2 finals, losing to the Abilene Eagles, 25 to 20.

In the District Tournament, San Angelo won over Barnhart, 29-14; Sterling, 35-22; Rocksprings, 27-6; Bronte, 25-17. The Cats scored 116 points to their opponents' 59.

TRACK

Tutored by Coach Hervey Blue, the San Angelo track team won the District Meet with 44 points—the nearest competitor had 20 points. In the Region 2 Meet in Abilene, the Bobcats garnered $18\frac{2}{3}$ points, thus losing to the Brady Bulldogs who made $21\frac{1}{2}$ points.

The Cats won second in the Range County Meet in Barnhart on March 15. Monahans won the meet with 37 points to our 36.

Entering only five events with only five men, the Bobcats came in third in the Iraan Cactus Relays on March 22. The Cats won four first places out of the five events entered and won also a second and third place.

The Bobcats tied for second place with Midland in the San Angelo Invitation Track and Field Meet held here on March 29. It was by far the best meet held in West Texas in 1941. Brady won the meet with $22\frac{1}{3}$ points; San Angelo and Midland were second with $21\frac{1}{2}$ points.

Coach Blue took five men to the State Meet in Austin and entered them in three events, the 880 yard run, the 440 relay, and the mile relay.

TENNIS

W. F. Webb, Coach

San Angelo High's tennis squad reversed itself exactly in the District 7 Meet this spring. Last year, Dewain Dallas and Emil Beck won their doubles match; while Jack Hight won nothing. This season Jack was the "big boy," having stormed his way through the list of opponents; while Dewain and Emil dropped their district doubles crown to Ballinger.

In the first match in Abilene, Jack met Ray Clark of Cisco. Clark beat him, 6-0, in the first set; but the Angelo lad took the next set, 6-4. After nearly losing the third set, Jack snared it, 7-5. Moving into the finals, Jack Hight lost to Tommy Hill, semi-finalist in the state meet, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-0, 6-3.

Prospects for the Bobcats' future tennis squads are shaping up. Bernard Bartzen, coming up from Junior High, will be a tough nut to crack in a year or two. Louis Spellman and Sam Vines, reserve lettermen this year, will be here next spring; and Jack Hight, who will be unbeatable next season, according to the victor of the Region 2 match, has two years of eligibility if he wishes to play for San Angelo High.

Dear Lida,

The staff has really done
a grand job of selling the Corral to San Angelo. Thanks for your part.

THE CAMPUS CORRAL

The Campus Corral staff has endeavored throughout the year 1940-'41 to act as "proxy" for a much needed auditorium by publishing a newspaper that has striven to unite the student body in democratic beliefs and actions, and to promote a school spirit unsurpassed by that of any other high school.

Co-editors, Harris Smith and Melba Kleitches, were responsible for seeing that the paper was put to bed, bi-weekly, during the first semester. Harris had nightmares after bouts with the make-up, and he added to the general campus activities with "Perpetual Commotion." Willa Wayne took over much of the make-up, with the assistance of Mildred Alice White, Dora Hagelstein, E. J. Barnes, and Jack Smith. Melba tried every journalistic tactic in writing editorials, feature stories, and news stories, and recorded scoops through the column, "Orchids and Onions."

The reporters that brought stories in alive were Charlene Andrews, Patricia Ann Bradbury, Estelle Mercer, Margey Young, Betty Jane Maxwell, Jean Guthrie, Helen Marie Wohlford, Louise Hillyer, Annette Smith, Valda Purviance, Billye Sue Young, Ann Wester, and Helen Jean Stroman.

Dowell Williams and James Simms, sports editors, furnished the sports lovers with an abundance of news about the Bobcats.

Margaret Strain helped Ima Ruth Childs and Mary Proctor, circulation team, by making outstanding posters to advertise each issue. Margaret also reproduced several famous paintings and did originals for the paper.

The financial end of the Corral was supported by an able advertising staff, with Rosa Lee Williams as manager and Mr. C. M. Franklyn as faculty adviser. This staff not only rivaled the prestige of the journalists, but often crowded out their most cherished gossip columns with two and three column "spreads." The salesmen were Iris Lovejoy, Betty Jean McCorkle, Gerald Huling, Juanita McMinn, Betty Jo Duncan, Lida Nowell, Jim Morgan, Richard Cox, and G. C. Magruder. Acting as faithful chauffeurs for the salesmen were Ollie Lou Tippet, Bernard Akin, Billy Halamicek, and Charles Ann Walling.

Typists that turned out reams of copy were Sara Sue Mann and Marjorie Pustejovsky.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Fifteen members were initiated into the J. Frank Dobie Chapter of the Quill and Scroll at a candle-lighting ceremony on March 27, 1941. The local chapter was admitted near the close of the Campus Corral's first year of publication, in April, 1939.

John Davenport, president of the charter chapter of Quill and Scroll, and Hobart McDowell, president, presided at the ceremony. The fifteen new members initiated were Charlene Andrews, Patricia Ann Bradbury, Louise Hillyer, Melba Kleitches, Iris Lovejoy, Betty Jane Maxwell, Estelle Mercer, James Simms, Harris Smith, Helen Jean Stroman, Mildred Alice White, Dowell Williams, Rosa Lee Williams, Willa Wayne Withers, and Margey Young.

Of the six persons who have served as editors on the Campus Corral, five were present for the initiation ceremony. In the picture below, these editors are, left to right, Melba Kleitches, editor 1940-'41; John Davenport, 1938-'39; Hobart McDowell, 1939-'40; Harris Smith, 1940; and Willa Wayne Withers, 1941. Tamea Henderson, editor 1939-'40, is the one not pictured.

After the ceremony, the new members elected their officers: Melba Kleitches, president; Dowell Williams, vice president; Iris Lovejoy, secretary; Estelle Mercer, treasurer; Willa Wayne Withers, parliamentarian; and Charlene Andrews, reporter.

From the opening of the fall campaign to induce students to have pictures made for the class section to the putting of the names on the covers, the 1941 WESTERNER staff has attempted to produce a yearbook which will many times bring pleasant memories of your 1940-1941 year in S. A. H. S.

The staff expresses its appreciation to all who helped in the production of the yearbook. The cooperation of the CAMPUS CORRAL throughout the year and their financial aid were essential to the success of the WESTERNER. Especially does the staff appreciate the work of the sales force.

Realizing the need for a school camera and other equipment for the offices of the CAMPUS CORRAL and the WESTERNER, the two staffs voted unanimously to put into a camera fund the money which had been set aside for the purchase of individual medals for staff members.
